Seen & Heard Around Murray

Seed catalogs are coming in with huge red tomatoes on the cover.

Our White Pine looked downright pitiful Sunday. The White Pine has a central trunk with the limbs coming out evenly from one point. The ice had them all drooped over. The Loblolies were all whopped over to one side too.

Every now and then in some yard we'll see a pine seedling of some kind about eight inches high, and wonder how it can survive the weather. Saw one the other day poking its head out of the snow.

As we left the house this morning a Downy Woodpecker moved over in to the big Hard Head Hickory, giving us a quizzical look.

One more football game and it'll all be over until next fall. Pro All-stars next Sunday.

Sitting there looking out the window yesterday at noon and eight Doves were sitting along one limb of the big Post Oak.

Filled up the bird feeder with some seeds and Sunflower seeds. A Squirrel came out to dig for Acorns under the Post Oak, then all of a sudden took off for the woods across the snow, as though the devil himself was after him. The frozen surface of the snow easily bore his weight.

Visiting the County Judge's office yesterday and it has undergone improvement. Walls have been paneled. That little used north door of the courthouse could be utilized as office space by someone. The door could be closed off and the hall area used as office space.

Four doors to the courthouse are not essential. Reminds us of the story about the fellow who had four cats and had four holes in the door for them to use as exits. Somebody asked him why he had four holes instead of one. He said when he said cat he meant 'cat'.

If you have not been over to the courthouse, make it a point to visit around in the offices and see all the new folks. New faces, folks moved from one office to another, different way of doing things, etc. Sheriff and his deputies have new uniforms which look snappy.

Somewhat the same over at the City Hall. Judge Don Overbey in the city judge's office and Paul Shapiro as City Prosecuting Attorney.

Speaking of city and county jails, the recent report on jails by the Kentucky Commission on Law Enforcement and Crime Prevention lists Calloway County as having two jails both of them inadequate. We do not know what the standards are that the commission used, but we figure the county jail to be a far cry over most jails in the state. It is new and allows for separation of juveniles and others. The city jail, although fairly new, is lacking in some facilities, but is still not bad as far as jails go.

Over the tv yesterday on the Noon Show, a lady calls in and tells the announcer that if they don't get the kids back in school right away, she was going to burn her PTA card.

Dr. James T. Hayes, Murray Professor, Publishes Text

By Karen Isbel

On January 15, Allyn & Bacon's Holbrook Press of Boston, Mass., will release a new university English textbook, "Rhetoric: Then and Now," written by Dr. James T. Hayes, director of freshman English at Murray State University.

The book illustrates how a student may gain skill in writing through studying the works of successful authors. In the text, Dr. Hayes has presented instruction in and examples of the four major kinds of writing: exposition, argumentation, narration, and description. Each division of the text follows a distinct pattern chosen by Dr. Hayes to make his discussions of the different styles more easily understood.

"Another distinct feature of the book," commented Dr. Hayes, "is that it contains essays written by Murray State students who were taught by this system and whose achievement in writing qualified their papers to appear in the book alongside the works of the old masters."

Essays by eleven students who were enrolled in an advanced composition course taught by Dr. Hayes are included in this book along with such writers as Francis Bacon, Jonathan Swift, and John D. Rockefeller III. Among the students whose writing appears in the book are two Murrayans—Linda Brownfield, the current Miss Murray State, and Phillip S. Sparks, who is now serving in the armed forces.

"I took the old writers and illustrated their works and then found contemporary authors who emulated the works of the classical writers," said Dr. Hayes. "Next, I found students whose work followed the examples of the contemporaries who had imitated the style of the old masters." In this way, the students can trace good writing to the classicists and then can identify with the contemporary publishing essays.

Dr. Hayes attended Bowling Green College of Commerce, Austin Peay State University, Western Kentucky University, and Michigan State University. He has published more than forty articles during the past twelve years and now has produced this textbook. His articles have appeared in the professional journals of the National Council of Teachers of English; in journals in Michigan, Wisconsin, and Nebraska; and in monthly publications of Dell Publishing Company and Popular Library, Inc. He has also served as a reviewer and critic for Holt, Rinehart, Winston and Allyn & Bacon.

A Kentucky Colonel, Dr. Hayes also holds membership in several professional and honorary organizations, including the American Association of University Professors, the National Council of Teachers of English, the Conference on College Composition and Communication, the Council for Basic Education, and Kappa Delta Pi.

Dr. Hayes, who has been at MSU for eight years, is listed in the "Directory of American Scholars," "Who's Who in American Education," "Dictionary of International Biography," "National Register of Prominent Americans," "Community Leaders of America," "Personalities of the South," "Kentucky Lives," and "Royal Blue Book."

The top producer in the herd is the top production Jersey herd in Kentucky, E. B. Howton, chairman of the Department of Agriculture at the University, has announced.

According to Robert L. Connor of the Kentucky Artificial Breeding Association, the herd's DHIA (Dairy Herd Improvement Association) average for the year ending September 30, 1969, was 14,464 pounds of milk and 530 pounds of butterfat per cow, Howton said.

This was the highest Jersey herd production average in the state for the year, and was produced with a daily milking average of 80 cows, Howton said. The average Kentucky DHIA cow produces 8,247 pounds of milk and 418 pounds of fat, Howton emphasized.

When originally purchased in 1938 for $2,500, the Murray herd consisted of 18 cows, seven heifers and one bull. Since then, only five cows have been purchased for the herd as all replacement milkers have been grown out. None have been bought in the past 22 years.

Today, the herd, numbering 140 total milkers, is valued at an estimated $42,500. Last year, 41 were selected for membership in the coveted Kentucky Jersey Club and/or the 500 Pounds Fat Club because of their production records during the year.

The top producer in the herd is the top production Jersey herd in Kentucky, E. B. Howton, chairman of the Department of Agriculture at the University, has announced.

The deceased, age 85, was the wife of the John J. Andrus who died September 3, 1943. She was born in Tennessee on June 4, 1884, and her parents were the late John Mathis and Mary Brown Mathis.

Mrs. Andrus was a member of the North Pleasant Grove Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Survivors are three daughters, Mrs. R. H. (Lucille) Thurman, 1108 Poplar Street, Mrs. Max (Hazel) Beale, 210 South 12th Street, and Mrs. Graves (Nell) Hendon, 705 Olive Street; one brother, Jesse Mathis of Detroit, Mich.; ten grandchildren; nineteen great grandchildren.

The funeral has been scheduled for Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. at the chapel of the J. H. Churchill Funeral Home with Rev. Edd Glover officiating.

Interment will be in the Stewart Cemetery with the arrangements by the J. H. Churchill Funeral Home where friends may call.

House Passes Air Pollution Bill In Session On Monday

By CHARLES PENTECOST FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — The state House of Representatives Monday unanimously passed its first bill of the 1970 session, to increase the general public's representation on the State Air Pollution Control Commission from one to three.

The bill passed, 91-0, and now will go to the Senate, where quick approval is expected. A top Democratic aide said both chambers want to move quickly on the measure to have sufficient time to override a possible veto by Gov. Louie B. Nunn.

Speaking briefly in favor of the bill during the House's 20-minute session Monday afternoon, Rep. James R. Yocum, D-Louisville, one of its sponsors called it a "peoples bill" which deserved passage.

The bill was introduced Jan. 6. Nine other bills were introduced Monday before the House adjourned until 1 p. m. (EST) today.

A proposal to increase representation on the Air Pollution Control Commission from one to three was made at Louisville two weeks ago by La. Gov. Wendell H. Ford. It drew immediate ridicule from the governor.

Another important "test" bill, HB 29, for the regulation of bail bondsmen, introduced by Rep. Julian Carroll, D-Paducah, Monday was assigned to the Judiciary Committee.

Bill introduced in the House Monday included:

—A bill providing unemployment compensation for workers thrown out of their jobs by strikes in which they are not participants.

—A bill to provide state income tax rebates to lower income groups, introduced by Rep. Wilson W. Wyatt, Jr., D-Louisville.

—A bill introduced by Rep. Brooks Hinkle, D-Paris, providing that Justices of the Peace and County Commissioners serving on fiscal courts shall receive salaries of not less than $500 a month.

—A bill introduced by Rep. Norbert Blume, D-Jefferson, limiting appeals on circuit court final orders and judgments in certain civil cases.

—Two bills introduced by Hinkle amended certain state income tax provisions.

—A bill providing that proposed budgets adopted by county budget commissions shall be submitted to the fiscal court for adoption at the time fixed for the adoption of county levy and budget, but not later than July 1st each year.

—A bill introduced by Rep. Ralph Mitchell, D-Shelbyville, cancelling conditional use permits in cases where the permit is not exercised within set time limits, but providing that such land shall not revert automatically to its original zoning designation.

—A bill providing that the canvass and returns provided under law shall be termed official when as soon as practicable after the close of the polls, the County Election Commission has checked and recanvassed.

Interment will be in the Murray Memorial Gardens with the arrangements by the Max H. Churchill Funeral Home where friends may call.

CITY SCHOOLS REOPEN TODAY, NO DECISION YET ON COUNTY

SADNESS IS THE TRADEMARK of the beagle hound, but this one really has something to be sad about with the comfort stations all snowed under in subzero Indianapolis, Ind.

Many County Roads Still Hazardous

Murray City Schools resumed classes today after being closed because of ice and snow but the Calloway County school system had to keep its doors closed as many county roads are still hazardous.

William B. Miller, superintendent of Calloway County schools said this morning that a decision had not yet been made as to whether the county schools would reopen Wednesday.

Miller said that the schools are allowed two calamity days by the Southern Association of Schools, and that the schools must be in session for 175 days. He said that the state had allowed five calamity days but that the system must go by the requirements of the Southern Association in order to keep the accreditation for Calloway County High.

The school calendar is set up for the current school term to close on May 26, but with the four days now to make up, the school will close on June 1, providing the schools are able to open on Wednesday and no more days are lost due to the weather, Miller added.

The high temperature recorded in Murray on Monday was 34 degrees and the mercury dipped to 14 last night.

By United Press International Freezing rain and 2 to 4 inches of snow hit Washington today as wet weather continued along the West Coast. Snow flurries continued over New England and parts of the East Coast.

Binghamton, N. Y., and Portland, Maine, each reported one inch of new snow today. Snow was also common in the north.

State Senate Begins First Full Week Of Action Monday

By GLEN CARPENTER FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — Bills relating to workmen's compensation and the overhauling of motor vehicles highlighted the Monday evening session of the State Senate as it began its first full week of action.

The Senate was to reconvene today at 1 p. m. after a 15-minute session Monday night following a recess for the week-end.

Sen. Carl T. Hadden, D-Hardinsburg, moved to put a stop to out-of-staters who never pay traffic citations issued by Kentucky law officers. Hadden's bill would allow any law officer in the state to arrest non-resident drivers, issue them citations for alleged violations and take them "without unnecessary delay" to a magistrate.

Another section of the proposed law would allow law officers to issue traffic citations to "Kentucky drivers" on the scene of an accident if the officer believed he has "reasonable and probable grounds" the driver has violated the law.

Two measures were introduced which would broaden Kentucky's Workmen's Compensation law.

Sen. James C. Brock, R-Harlan, introduced both measures. The first would allow dependents of an employee who is killed by a workman's compensation insurance to collect the unpaid awards in case the employee died of any cause.

The other would permit him to select his own physician or medical facility for treatment of an injury or occupational disease sustained on the job. If it is found an employee is not receiving the proper treatment, however, the employer would be entitled to select a doctor or medical facility of its choosing to treat the employee.

Brock's bill in no case would allow an employer to be a liable for malpractice of either a physician or medical facility.

Hadden also introduced a measure which would increase from $100 to $200 the amount of damage that must be sustained in an automobile accident before a report of it must be filed with the State Department of Public Safety. This measure would decrease the number of such reports which are flooding the department because of the increasing costs of automobile repairs.

Sen. C. Gibson Downing, D-Lexington, was joined by seven of his colleagues in introducing a measure which would require state licensing of electricians and electrical contractors.

A call to conclude the 11-week strike at the Louisville General Electric Appliance Park was issued by Sen. Romano Mazzoli, D-Louisville. He asked the International Union of Electrical Workers, Local 761, and GE to "tear down the barriers that up to this point have prevented settlement of this dispute. Mazzoli said a continuation of the strike would only serve to harm the employees and the community further.

The local address was greeted by scattered applause.

Three persons were cited by the Murray Police Department on Monday. They were one for passing on a double yellow line, one for public drunkenness, and for reckless driving and disregarding a flashing light.

MEET CANCELLED

The Arts and Crafts Club has cancelled its meeting scheduled for Wednesday at the home of Mrs. A. M. Thomas due to the weather conditions.

Two Injured In Wreck On Icy Road

Two persons were reported injured in a two car collision Monday at 4:30 p. m. on Kentucky 732, six miles east of Murray, according to the report filed by Deputy Sheriff Calton Morgan and Maurice Wilson.

Injured were Louise Moffett Sommers of Murray Route Six and Katherine Bailey of Oaklawn, Ill.

Mrs. Sommers had a chest injury and Mrs. Bailey had an injury to her ribs, according to officials at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital where they were treated and dismissed.

The deputy sheriffs said Mrs. Sommers, driving a 1969 Chevrolet, was going west on Kentucky 732, skidded across the road into the path of a 1966 Mustang. On impact the Sommers car was knocked back across the road into a road ditch, according to the sheriffs' report.

The Mustang owned by Nelson Key was driven by Patricia Dianne Key of Murray Route Six. Mrs. Bailey was a passenger in the Sommers car.

Wildcats Outlast Georgia 72-71 For Twelfth Straight

By STU CAMEN
UPI Sports Writer

Luck is no lady as far as the University of Georgia basketball team is concerned.

Georgia lost a heartbreaking 72-71 decision to second-ranked Kentucky Monday night and afterwards, Bulldog Coach Ken Rosemond pointed out the importance of luck in the game.

"In that second half they had two shots that hit the side of the rim, bounced up, and went in," Rosemond noted. "We had two shots in the last minute that went in and then out. That was the difference."

The win was the undefeated Wildcats' 12th of the season and moved them past Georgia into first place in the Southeastern Conference with a 4-0 mark in SEC play. Georgia is 4-1 in conference competition and 5-6 overall.

UCLA Holds Number One

By GREG GALLO
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—John Ecker, a third-string center at UCLA during the Alcindor era, who was promoted to a backup man to Steve Patterson this year, had his moment of glory Saturday night.

His basket with six seconds to play enabled the unbeaten Bruins to defeat Oregon State and remain United Press International's No. 1 team again this week.

The Bruins, 10-0, received 27 first place votes from UPI's Board of Coaches as compared to seven given to second-ranked Kentucky.

Kentucky, No. 1 until UCLA replaced the Wildcats at the top last week, rolled to convincing victories over Mississippi, 111-76, and Florida, 88-69, during the week. The Wildcats have now won 11 straight.

South Carolina (10-1) remained in third place with a 65-52 victory over arch-rival North Carolina and a 55-44 win over Maryland.

With its big man Bob Lanier controlling the scoring and the rebounding, St. Bonaventure (10-0), buried Loyola, Md., 96-52 and Kent State, 94-85, to hold down the No. 4 spot.

Victories over Texas El Paso, 75-66, and Montana, 106-68, propelled New Mexico State (14-1) into fifth position ahead of North Carolina (11-2), which dropped back to sixth after its loss to South Carolina.

Jacksonville raised its record to 12-0 and remained in seventh place while Houston (12-1) kept eighth position with two easy triumphs.

Davidson (10-1) climbed from 14th to ninth place on the strength of three victories while Marquette (12-1) held down the 10th spot.

Five coaches from each of the seven geographical areas of the nation comprise the UPI Board of Coaches. Each week they vote for the top 10 teams and points are awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for vote from first through 10th.

gave Kentucky a 72-69 lead and enabled the Wildcats to withstand Bob Linnhardt's basket at the buzzer. Dan Issel led Kentucky with 32 points while Lanny Taylor paced Georgia with 25 and Linnhardt had 17.

Third-ranked South Carolina was the only other team in the top ten to see action and the gamecocks overcame Virginia's slowdown to beat the Cavaliers, 63-42. Tom Owens sparked South Carolina's offense with 18 points and John Roche contributed 13, including 11 in the second half.

California parlayed Anasley Truitt's 24 points and a tough zone defense into an 84-64 upset of 13-ranked Washington. The Golden Bears held the Huskies' high-scoring George Irvine to seven points and were never seriously threatened after assuming a 40-24 halftime lead.

Washington State downed Stanford, 72-62, and moved into a tie with top-ranked UCLA and Southern California for first place in the Pacific Eight Conference race. The Cougars, in posting their 11th win against two defeats and upping their Pacific Eight record to 2-0, were led by Dennis Hogg's 20 points.

Elsewhere, Andy Owens jump shot with 1:38 left in overtime enabled Florida to beat Tennessee, 57-56; John Mengert's 23 points paced Auburn to an 86-77 triumph over Alabama; Oklahoma got past Missouri, 52-48; Creighton downed Colorado, 65-60; Seattle beat Denver, 70-57; Xavier edged Texas Christian, 80-76; Rice topped Tulane, 83-80; Maryland beat Clemson, 75-68; Western Kentucky tripped Morehead, 86-83, and Weber State walloped Gonzaga, 120-72.

Racers Lose First OVC Game, ETSU

By CHARLIE SMITH
UPI Sports Writer

Three cliffhangers—won the defeat of league leading Murray State—highlighted Ohio Valley Conference basketball play Monday night with East Tennessee State, Tennessee Tech, Western Kentucky and Eastern Kentucky coming out on top.

ETSU's Mike Kretzer tossed in 20 points to give his team a 75-71 victory over Murray State. It was nip-and-tuck most of the way with the Buc's Tommy Martin making a bucket with 22 seconds left to put it out of reach.

ETSU is 9-4 overall and 3-1 in the conference while Murray is 11-3 overall and 5-1 in the conference.

Western Kentucky forward Jerome Perry put in a free throw and a foul shot in the last nine seconds to defeat Morehead State 86-83 at Morehead. The game was tied 83 all with 13 seconds to go when Perry spoiled MSU's upset bid.

Jim McDaniels was high scorer for the Hilltoppers who have a 4-2 conference record.

In Cookeville, sophomore guard Dan Furlong pulled his Tennessee Tech squad from apparent defeat with six seconds remaining as Austin Peay fell 90-88. Furlong hit a 20 foot jump shot with 53 seconds to tie the game 88-88 and then sunk two foul shots in a 1-1 situation for the victory margin.

Tech is now 6-5 overall and 2-2 in the OVC while Austin Peay is 4-7 overall and 1-3 in the conference.

Eastern Kentucky's Bill Bryant came off the bench in the second-half to guide his team to a 88-78 victory over Middle Tennessee State University in Richmond, Ky.

Bryant hit all of his 18 points in the second half.

Eastern Kentucky is now 5-5 overall and 3-2 in the conference. Middle Tennessee is 4-7 on the year and 0-4 in the league.

Chiefs Welcomed Home With 3 1/2 Mile Parade Yesterday

By CHARLIE SMITH
UPI Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—To New Yorkers, it would rank as a piker.

But, to Kansas Citizens, it was a parade to end all parades Monday as more than 100,000 citizens turned out to welcome home their Kansas City Chiefs.

The parade route, about 3 1/2 miles through downtown Kansas City, was strewn with confetti, streamers and toilet paper. In some places, the litter was knee-high along the curbs.

The celebration was a tribute to the Chiefs' 23-7 victory over the Minnesota Vikings in Sunday's Super Bowl. The victory made the Chiefs champions of professional football. Or, as some were saying Monday, "Champeons of the U-nee-verse."

Everybody got into the act. Gov. Warren Hearnes of Missouri and Gov. Robert Docking of Kansas proclaimed Monday "Kansas City Chiefs Day" in their respective states.

Students in junior and senior high schools in Kansas City, Mo., were let out an hour early to attend the festivities.

At the end of the parade, another 10,000 or more waited in the Liberty Memorial Mall south of the downtown area.

Although most called the crowd 100,000 and let it go at that, Police Information Officer Sidney Harlow set the figure as "between 150,000 and 175,000."

Some players rode in the open, although the temperature hovered at 30 degrees, while others rode in sedans. Names of the players inside were on each car.

Interspersed with the players' cars were fans' automobiles, which had somehow gotten into the police-escorted parade.

"This is the thrill of a lifetime to bring this championship to Kansas City," Coach Hank Stram said.

At the mall, players jumped on a platform and danced and hugged each other. They seemed to be having the time of their lives.

So was the crowd.

Football Hall Of Fame Names First Annual All-Pro Teams

CANTON, Ohio (UPI)—The pro-football Hall of Fame today announced its first annual All-Pro Team comprised of players from both the American and National Football leagues.

The team was chosen by the hall's Board of Selectors, a 26-member committee made up of one member from each of 24 pro football cities and two from New York, which has two teams. The board was organized primarily to select new members to the pro grid shrine.

The first offensive and defensive units, including a punter and placekicker, are dominated by NFL performers, with 17 of the 24 named coming from the older league. The second, however, lists 15 of its 24 from AFL squads, making the overall figure 26-22 NFL for the 48 players chosen.

Bud Grant, coach of the NFL champion Minnesota Vikings, was picked as coach of the first team, and George Allen of the Los Angeles Rams was named to head the second team.

Committee Says Grid Rules OK

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An advisory committee of coaches has notified the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) that there is no need to tamper to any extent with college football rules. They're fine as they are.

That goes for the platoon substitute rule, the two-point optional conversion and the placing of the goal posts 10 yards back in the end zone.

The report of the Rules Recommendations Committee of the American Football Coaches Association highlighted the annual NCAA convention, which went into its second day today.

The only rules alterations suggested as a new Regulation aimed at eliminating "cheap shot" tactics by defensive men when an offensive lineman moves illegally before the snap of the ball.

The rules group recommended that a penalty be invoked against whichever player is the "first offender" to encroach the neutral zone.

The feature of today's schedule was an awards luncheon honoring all-time football selections, cabinet members and governors who starred in college sports.

Among the all-time football selections were such stars as Jay Bawenger and Don Hutson. Also honored were Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell (golf, Fordham, 1936), and Labor Secretary George P. Shultz (basketball, Princeton, 1942).

Recognition was given to these governors: Warren R. Knowles of Wisconsin, Paul LaRatt of Nevada, Harold Levander of Minnesota, William G. Milliken of Michigan, Richard B. Ogilvie of Illinois, Raymond R. Shafer of Pennsylvania and Norbert T. Tieman of Nebraska.

Longhorns Taste Sweet Fruits Of Success At Banquet Monday

By KYLE THOMPSON

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The Texas Longhorns tasted the sweet fruits of success at their annual football banquet Monday.

It was an orange and white revel, with 4,000 partisans screaming "Hook 'em" and "We're No. 1" and other famous battle cries to the rooftop of the cavernous Municipal Auditorium.

Head Coach Darrell Royal introduced Freddie Steinmark, who had his left leg amputated the week after the Arkansas game, and the defensive safety was cheered for five minutes.

Royal appeared close to tears and Steinmark wept openly as he walked across the stage on his new artificial leg.

Signs Autographs

The popular Denver, Colo., junior's food went almost untouched while he signed autographs and shook hands for a solid hour with friends and fans gathered at his table.

"I don't know how many autographs I signed," he said. "I guess I should have kept count. I feel great."

The rest of the Longhorns also got thunderous welcomes and signed their fair share of autographs.

Former President Lyndon Johnson was seated at a place of honor at the head table. Johnson received a standing ovation.

Starts 20 games And Wins James Street, who started 20 games at quarterback for the Steers and won all of them, was chosen Most Valuable Player by his teammates and also received a special leadership award.

United Press International presented the team with a three-foot-high trophy naming the Longhorns the nation's top football team of 1969. The award was presented by John G. Griffin, UPI's sports editor.

"I am here to the dismay of my lovely wife and all of her family who are alumni of Penn State," Griffin said. "There never was any doubt at UPI about who was the national champion after the Arkansas game. I would say to those who waited until 1970 to finally decide that the 1969 Longhorns are No. 1—'Oh ye of little faith'."

The team also received the Grantland Rice and MacArthur Bowl awards as the country's top football eleven.

Gets Silver Medallions

Each player got a silver medallion. One side pictured Street fading back to throw the fourth-and-two pass that was the big clutch play of the Cotton Bowl victory over Notre Dame. On the flip side was a University of Texas seal.

Ted Koy, the bruising senior halfback from Belleville, Tex., got the award for sportsmanship. Paul Kristynik, a defensive back from Bay City, Tex., was chosen the player with the most team spirit.

HONOLULU (UPI)—Bob Anderson of Colorado passed for one touchdown and ran for another to lead the South to a 35-13 victory over the North in the 24th annual Hula Bowl.

Dear Abby

Separate bedrooms don't ruin marriage

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have never gone to anyone for advice before, but you seem to be the easiest one for me to turn to. About three years ago my husband thought he would get a better night's sleep if he had a room of his own. I was opposed to the idea and said so, but he got his way. [He is very selfish.]

We have a wonderful family, and I really want to try to save our marriage more for their sake than for my own.

Well, our relationship has deteriorated ever since, but it really became obvious on our last anniversary when he took me out for dinner, gave me a corsage, was very agreeable, but when we came home, he went right to his bedroom and I didn't even get a kiss!

That's all the thanks I get for giving him four beautiful children and raising them almost single-handed.

Please, Abby, try to make him see how rejected I feel.

UNHAPPY IN PORTLAND

DEAR UNHAPPY: I doubt that the separate bedrooms was responsible for the deterioration of your marriage. [It probably started long before that.] Without seeming to be unkind, there is something of the "martyr" in your attitude which suggests that you feel your husband "owes" you love because you gave him four beautiful children. No man ever loved a woman because she gave him children. He may feel some "obligation" to her, but that is not love. You should see a counselor and find out what the real barrier between you is.

DEAR ABBY: After having a fight with her mother one night, my 18-year-old niece came to my house all upset and asked if she could come and live with me. As she had nowhere else to go, I consented. It's been six months now, and she's too much for me to handle.

I don't like the looks of some of the company she keeps, and she doesn't always tell things straight. [She doesn't exactly lie, but she doesn't tell the whole truth, either.] She is very cagey. Anyway, this girl is wearing me out.

Her father sends her support money which barely covers her expenses. I have a vacation coming up, but I hesitate to go and leave this girl to entertain her kooky friends in my home.

Should I tell her to get her own apartment?

MUDDLED IN BIRMINGHAM

DEAR MUDDLED: Since the girl is "too much for you to handle," advise her parents, and let them take over.

DEAR ABBY: May I give some advice to the girl who was still "untouched" four days after her marriage?

Pack quickly and walk fast. Twelve years ago I met a nice young man who never got fresh with me, which was a relief, as I was determined to be pure as Mary when I married.

We were wed, and four months later I was STILL "pure as Mary." One night, while under the influence of liquor, he confessed that he had always had a problem with girls. They made him sick!

He said he had seen a doctor who told him that all he needed was more exposure to girls, and he'd get over it.

Well, my husband was able to function quite well as a man when he put his mind to it, but he'd always end up being sick to his stomach. Nevertheless I stuck with him and we had three children.

When I caught him playing around with his barber I knew I was fighting a losing battle, so I quietly took my children and left.

I have never told anyone the real story, and I never will. I am now married to a real man. Abby, I realize that most gay guys would rather be normal, but please tell any man who prefers men, to quit fighting it, and to leave women alone.

Hippie Fashions Fail

To Dent Dress List

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 — (UPI) — Hippie fashions failed to make a dent in the annual Best Dressed list for 1969, issued Sunday.

Fourteen women in private life were named to the fashion honor roll as the result of a poll of 2,000 international style observers conducted by fashion publicist Eleanor Lambert.

The voters elevated former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, film stars Gary Grant and Douglas Fairbanks Jr., and diplomat Angier Biddle Duke to the permanent "Fashion Hall of Fame" along with Baroness Philippine de Rothschild of Paris.

New to the women's listing were Ali McGraw, whose husband is Robert Evans, of Paramount Pictures; Princess Salima, the English bride of Aga Khan IV; Mrs. Robert Sakowitz, wife of a Houston, Texas, department store executive; Mrs. Kirk Douglas, wife of the film star; Mrs. William McCormick Blair, Jr., whose husband heads the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington; and Mrs. Patrick Guinness of the Irish brewing family.

Repeaters on the list were Mrs. Wyatt Cooper (Gloria Vanderbilt), Mrs. Ahmed Behima, Mrs. Ahmet Ertegun, Mrs. Graham Mattison, Mrs. Charlotte Ford Niarcho, Mrs. William Rayner, Mrs. Charles Revson and Mrs. Harilaos Theodoropoulos.

Except for Michael Butler of Chicago, a far-out dresser who produced the hit musical "Hair," and singer Harry Belafonte who prefers casual clothes, the men on the best-dressed list lean toward dapper but traditional clothes typified by the wardrobe of actor George Hamilton.

They included magazine publisher Wyatt Cooper, Italian industrialist Gianni Agnelli, French skier Jean-Claude Killy, actor James Coburn, business man Adolphus Andrews of San Francisco, sportscaster Frank Gifford, Baron Eric de Rothschild of Paris, television's David Susskind, and jeweler Gianni Bulgari of Rome.

Best dressed lists for men and women in connection with the fashion industry also issued. On the men's list was Robert Sakowitz, making the Sakowitzes and the Coopers the only best dressed couples.

Electric Knife Needs Extra Care

If you got an electric knife for Christmas do you find it difficult to use?

"Carving with an electric knife takes a little getting used-to! The first time may not be successful, but don't be discouraged," says Miss LaVerne Farmer. "Practice usually helps perfect your skill." Miss Farmer is a home management specialist with the University of Tennessee Agricultural Extension Service.

The electric knife may feel cumbersome, and the pressure you apply in cutting is much different. Go easy until you get the "feel" of handling this knife, says Miss Farmer.

You will be aware of the need for greater caution as the electric knife starts cutting as soon as the switch is turned on. Keep the knife out of reach of children at all times.

Get everything ready even before you plug in the electric knife, adds Miss Farmer. Insert and lock the blades in place. Have the food ready to carve on a cutting board.

The electric knife makes carving easier, concludes the specialist, but you will need to learn to use it and to be careful with it.

New Butter Substitutes

COLUMBUS (UPI) — Scientists at Ohio State University have developed and test-marketed two low-fat dairy spreads that can be used in place of butter or margarine.

The spreads were developed by the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center at OSU and have been test-marketed for a year in the OSU dairy store.

The basic spread contains half the fat and about half the calories of butter and margarine. The other contains 30 per cent honey and cinnamon for added flavor. It has been developed for use as a breakfast spread.

The main drawback to the new spreads is that they do not melt like butter and margarine so they can't be used for frying.

However, the spreads don't make toast soggy, either.

Lucille Ball Is Remarkable As Performer

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—You love Lucy.

You've proved it by keeping the Lucille Ball shows near the top of the ratings for 18 years now under four different titles: "I Love Lucy," "The Lucy-Desi Specials," "The Lucy Show" and "Here's Lucy."

The comedienne is as remarkable a woman as she is performer.

Under the orange-pink hair and patina of lunacy is an extraordinarily feminine woman, dedicated mother and an expert on situation comedy.

Of her longevity on the tube, Lucy said, "There is so much change in the world today and so little we can hang on to, that our show is safe and seems permanent. It's always been broadcast on Monday nights."

"We're not just a flash-in-the-pan that's here today and canceled tomorrow. So viewers find some security in watching us. It's more than Habit. Our series keeps pace with the times."

Some elements of Lucy's show have changed tremendously, principally its cast.

Episode Cost $28,000. Back in 1951 when the first black and white half-hour show was aired, the episode cost $28,000. In those early years Lucy and Desi made 39 segments a year.

Today the half-hour color show costs $115,000 per episode and, as is the custom with most series, only 24 segments are filmed.

"Labor costs, along with the rise in prices for everything accounts for the increases,"

Lucy, who once owned Desi Studios—a three-story complex—and sold it to a conglomerate. "But I think they've stretched costs as far as they can go."

Lucy doesn't deny that she continues with her show in order to launch daughter Lucie and son Desi in show business. "This year the kids have more to do on the series than they did last season," she explained. "I'd like to get in one more year with the youngsters. It's better for syndication."

Asked To Buy Studio Lucy was sitting at a small round dining table in her elaborate office that is part of what is now called Paramount Studios.

Quotes From The News

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

SOMEWHERE IN NIGERIA — Brig. Philip Effiong, who became Biafran chief when Gen. Odumegwu Ojukwu fled, announces the surrender of the breakaway province.

"A stop must be put to the bloodshed. . . The suffering of our people must be brought to an immediate end."

CHICAGO — Mayor Richard J. Daley, announcing that construction jobs will be found in Chicago for 18,000 Negroes over the next five years:

"This is the Chicago plan we talked about so many times. . . It recognizes the complete opportunity of young men to participate in the building of this city."

LONDON — The Royal Institute for International Affairs, commenting in a study prepared by T. C. Rhee of Dayton, Ohio, on the situation that would be created by a successful Russian attack on Red China:

"The U.S.S.R. would have taken a step forward in her aim of communizing the world. The nations of the Asian periphery would find it impossible to maintain their independence or even neutrality."

WASHINGTON — Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, assessing President Nixon's first year in office:

"He's done a pretty good job. . . all things considered. He's got us going the other way in Vietnam with the troops coming out, although not fast enough."

Today's Stock Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks followed a mixed pattern in trading at the opening today.

In the absence of constructive news, many analysts believe that stocks will drift over a fairly narrow range, possibly until President Nixon delivers the State of the Union and budget messages later this month.

Shortly after the opening, the UPI market indicator, measuring all stocks traded, was off 0.13 per cent on 358 issues crossing the tape. Of these, declines narrowly edged advances, 136 to 110.

International Paper dipped 1/4 to 37 1/2, with American Cyanamid down 1/4 to 27 and Merck off 1/4 to 110 1/4. International Telephone dipped 1/4 to 58 1/2, and Kennecott Copper 1/4 lower at 48 1/4. American Telephone gained 1/4 to 50.

Chas. Pfizer rose 1/4 to 109 1/4, and Greyhound Corp. 1/4 to 17 1/2. American Smelting fell 1 1/2 to 32 1/2 on a block of 10,000 shares.

Among the oils, Gulf and Standard of California were unchanged at 29 1/2 and 52 1/2, respectively. Cities Service also was steady at 38 1/2, but Texaco eased 1/4 to 29 1/2. Natomas and Occidental were unchanged at 53 1/2 and 24 1/2 in that order.

General Motors was unchanged at 67, with Ford steady at 40 1/2. Chrysler dipped 1/4 to 33 1/2.

In the steels, U.S. Steel fell 1/4 to 34 1/2, while Armco gained 1/4 to 26 1/2, and Bethlehem 1/4 up to 26 1/2.

Rule Ruining Basketball?

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Michigan State basketball coach Gus Ganakas said yesterday college basketball referees are "taking the drive out of basketball."

"In the past six years they've been trying to clarify what charging is and what blocking is," he said. "The tendency has been to give the defense a better opportunity so that now officials have a propensity to pull the responsibility on the offensive player when he drives."

Ganakas told newsmen at his weekly news conference that basketball rules specifically say a defensive player must have both feet planted on the floor before an offensive player hitting him is called for charging.

But, he said, officials have been calling charging when the defensive player "only has one foot set."

"This," he said, "is taking the driving play out of basketball."

JPHS Edition Contains Many Interesting Stories Of Area

The Jackson Purchase Sequentiennial edition of the Jackson Purchase Historical Society is selling in all counties of the Purchase area. The copies of the edition were placed in all newspaper offices in the Jackson Purchase counties and may be picked up there.

The editorial staff of the JPHS has worked several months on the edition, which was published by the Mayfield Messenger and presented to the JPHS President Dr. L. J. Horton on December 30 by Messenger Publisher Ray Edwards.

The 150th Anniversary edition of the JPHS is newspaper size and is printed in eleven sections. There are ten sections of 12 pages each and each of these sections contains spot color. The last four page section is four pages, with full reproduction color. The 124 page section in 9 column format is the largest special edition of its type ever printed in the Purchase.

The Treaty of 1818, approval and Senate ratification of the approval were obtained from the U. S. government archives and are reproduced for the first time ever. There is a story on slavery in the Purchase that brings out facts never printed before.

Each of the eight Purchase counties had editorial board personnel, who contributed to the edition and stories are very interesting and in narrative form. Area businesses support the edition, with progress type ads and pictures of historical value.

Section "A" contains the "behind the scenes" story of the Treaty of 1818, which saw the government obtain the land of the Jackson Purchase. Governor Nunn's proclamation and a message from the JPHS edition editor Lon Carter Barton, Mayfield are included. Religion with the "circuit rider" and church organizations, Fancy Farm's history, the study of the secession meeting of the Civil War, held in Mayfield are highlighted. A story of Noble Gregory and brother Voris Gregory, both who served in Congress is also a feature.

Section "B" contains the story of Nathan Stubblefield of Murray, the founder of radio. A story on Wadesboro courthouse, masonic organizations and Irvin S. Cobb, Paducah are featured. Hall Allen has told an interesting story of the Civil War as related to the Jackson Purchase, and the story of the first two presidents of Murray State University is in this section. River transportation and ferries in the Purchase complete the section.

Section "C" contains an interesting feature on Columbus, Ky., the Farmington Institute story, notes from a Graves County planter's diary, and a direct copy of the Jackson Purchase Newspaper, which was printed in Mayfield in 1869. Stories on the history of two counties complete the section.

Section "D" features the late Alben Barkley, vice-president of the United States who was born in Graves County; a story on the last reunion of the "Old Johnnies" of the Civil War at Backusburg, history of the Mound building Indians in Ballard County and the Banana Festival and the great Reelfoot Lake earthquake are featured.

Section "E" features railroads of the Purchase, Casey Jones history, the story of Ft. Jefferson near Wickliffe, Linn Boyd history, scenes from the Paducah flood of 1913 and the civil war reconstruction, ancient Buried city, Camp Beauregard in Graves County, steamboating or Purchase Rivers, other Civil War lore fill the pages.

Section "F" contains various features on Murray State including Dr. Ralph Woods, Dr. Richmond, Dr. W. W. W. the sports program at MSU, growth of the university, and features on West Tennessee and a concise account of the history and development of the Purchase Organization of Fulton, Ballard and other counties and towns like Feliciana are featured.

Section "G" has a feature story on George Bingham's "Hogwallow Happenings." This former editor of the Messenger brought national fame to Mayfield with his articles. Aviation in the Purchase, the Greend iron furnace in Calloway, La Center history, and several Land Between-The-Lakes features are found in this section. The outstanding feature on slavery is found in this section. Graves County had 1,726 slaves worth $91,784.00 in 1865. These and other interesting never published facts are presented.

Section "H" features Kentucky and Barkley Dam projects in Marshall County. Physicians, Fritz Holt feature, and a pictorial display of the Jackson Purchase area from hunting grounds to the

Section "I" features Governor Isaac Shelby, parts of treaty, first inhabitants of the area, Carlisle, and Graves history, and a double page layout giving the location, description and inscription on every historical marker in the eight Purchase counties.

The story of Mayfield and its history is presented with a feature on Congressman Frank Stubblefield, Murray, the Paducah flood of 1913, Pryorsburg feature, Woolridge Monuments feature, and other local lore.

Section "J" tells of old homes in the Purchase, Andrew Jackson, Hickman County, Carlisle County, Fulton County, state line communities, old families, list of representatives. Murray history, Marshall County history, and Graves County

Mideast Policy Challenged

Rogers' Stand Tested

BY STEWART HENSLEY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers is said to be firmly convinced the Administration should continue to pursue his "even-handed" Middle East policy, despite growing domestic pressure for adoption of a more pro-Israel stance.

With some congressmen increasingly anxious for a change in Rogers' policy, this issue may provide a major test of Rogers' considerable influence on President Nixon. The soft-spoken secretary believes in bringing his influence to bear only on truly critical issues. So far he has won the big ones.

HOWEVER, OPPONENTS of the current policy have what they think is good ammunition on the Middle East issue because the long series of Soviet-American discussions on a Mideast settlement appears to have reached a dead end.

Moscow declined to agree to suggestions put forward by the United States late last year as a basis for Arab-Israeli negotiations and the Israelis claimed Rogers was seeking to "appease" the Arabs.

AWARE OF THE possibility of failure in the Soviet-American talks, Rogers nevertheless felt they were necessary to keep Moscow and Washington in touch and prevent any miscalculation which might bring nuclear confrontation.

Some of Rogers' critics contend his position has been influenced by U. S. business interests in the Middle East, principally oil companies with operations in Arab nations. State Department officials reject this charge.
